

Chapters

In chapter one, I was raised on the Dodgers
Every boy wants to be like his father
In Little League, when he was coaching me
I was hanging on every word.....

I wish that I knew back then

There's no perfect life, you can't hold back time
But you hold on tight, hoping you might find

Every page you turn is a lesson learned

Aren't we all, aren't we all just trying get it right?

These are the chapters of my life!

Phase two, overwhelmed by attention
Everybody expecting perfection
Throw a ball, then you'll have it all
Best thing I ever heard.....

I wish I knew back then

Full Chorus:

Every page you turn is a lesson learned

Truth is that we all have stories
You've got to fail on your way to glory
Takes time trying get it right
But every future has a past.....

And I wish I knew back then, oh

There's no perfect life, you can't hold back time
But you hold on tight, hoping you might find

Every page you turn is a lesson learned

Aren't we all, aren't we all just trying get it right?

These are the chapters of my life!

Recorded by Brett Young, 2018

Writer(s): Young, DeGraw, Copperman

Permission to use lyrics requested from ASCAP and BMI, August 2019.

